EDINBURGH, April 8.

A WOMAN was buried at St. Catherine's Church in Dublin, the second of March, and a Noise being heard in the Night and next Morning in the Grave, the Coffin was taken up, and open'd, when the Woman was found to be alive, but very bloody, and much bruised; yet she lived but a few Hours after, and was again buried the next Night.

We hear from Dunse, that Mr. Roger Moodie being presented to be a Minister of that Parish, a Libel signed by 10 Elders was given in against him, accusing him of Drunkenness in April 1732. The Presbytery finding the Libel relevant, it was admitted to Probation; and the said Mr. Moodie having craved Liberty to cite Witnesses for his Exculpation, last Tuesday he proved himself alibi to the Conviction of the Presbytery, the Libellers themselves and all present. Whereupon the Presbytery assoilized him in a most honourable Manner. And having taken the Case of the Libellers under their Consideration, they unanimously agreed to rebuke the said 10 libelling Elders, suspend them for three Months from the several Parts of their Office, and insert the said Sentence in the Session Records of Dunse in futuram rei memoriam.

London, April 29. Extract of a private Letter from the Hague.

'All that has been mention'd concerning the Arrest of 'King Theodore at Amsterdam proves confirm'd. As this 'is a very extraordinary Event, we shall give some further 'Particulars in Relation to it. Baron Neuhoff being some 'time since at Amsterdam, contracted several Debts there 'to the Amount of 30,000 Florins. A certain Merchant, 'among others, who had lent the Baron 5000 Florins, died, 'after whose Decease the Executors found the Baron's Bond 'for the said Sum; and having heard the Report that he 'was incognito at Amsterdam, endeavour'd a good while in 'vain to find him out, because though his Domesticks lodg'd 'at a House upon the Sea Dyck, and he himself had an Apartment there, yet he never lay there, pretending always that 'he had Journeys to take, sometimes to one Place, 'sometimes to another, but in Reality only skulk'd about 'in Amsterdam so as never to be met with by his Creditors. 'In this Manner, however, he carried on his Affairs, having, it's said, sent Ammunition to Corsica to the Value of '200,000 Florins and upwards: At last a certain necessitous 'Person, call'd Van Hockum, to whom the Baron was well 'describ'd, undertook to discover and take him for a Reward of 100 Ducats. He dress'd himself very fine, and 'went directly to the Sign of the Stag, near the Place where 'the Baron lodg'd, in order to watch for him, who not 'long after appear'd; upon which Van Hockum address'd 'himself to him as tho' he positively knew him, making 'him an Offer, by way of Pledge for his Fidelity and good 'Behaviour, of 8000 Florins, in Case his Majesty would 'give him a Captain's Commission. Into this Snare the 'crafty Mock King very easily fell, telling him he would consider of his Proposal, and give him an Answer the next Day; 'when he confess'd to the Traitor Hockum, that he was actually King Theodore, and would grant his Request. This 'Wretch, to make sure of his Prize, return'd next Night 'out of Breath, and throwing himself at the pretended 'King's Feet, cried out, I am undone, protect me, the Officers 'are at my Heels! Which indeed was fact, because he had 'conducted them there: They immediately entred the 'Room; whereupon Hockum, as in a Passion drew his 'Sword; which they little regarding, address'd themselves 'to the Baron, telling him he was their Prisoner, at the 'Suit of such and such, and the next Day conducted him 'to Prison. Many Persons, even of Distinction, have been 'to see him, whom he receiv'd tolerably well, but in a very 'concise Way. He is about five Foot and a half high, 'square and well set, a goodly Mein, of a bold and lively 'Countenance; he speaks high and low Dutch, French, 'English, Spanish, Italian, and the Lingo Franco. According to the Letters from Amsterdam, he has petitioned to 'be removed to the Town-House, which it seems has been 'granted him. Many Persons of Note being affected with 'his Condition, have interested themselves on his Behalf. 'Since his being in Custody other Creditors appear, one of '8000, the other 9000 Florins, who have not yet charg'd 'him. The Success of the Conferences held with the Per'sons who have engag'd to assist him, is expected with Im'patience. During this Negotiation many Reports are spread; 'and 'tis thought, that if the Genoese, to whom Hockum 'has wrote to demand the Reward set on his Head, have 'timely notice, they will insist upon his being deliver'd up 'to them; which, as it would greatly embarras their High 'Mightinesses, many wish that he was already discharg'd.

London, May 7. Letters from Madrid of the 26th past, say, that a few Days since died in that City, aged about 73 Don Lewis Demer, a Person who possess'd several very great Places under his Catholick Majesty.

The Spanish Court expect with impatience an Answer from that of Portugal, on the Propositions, which have been made to 'em, relating to the last Scheme of Accommodation.

One of the Imperial Ministers has informed the Dutch Envoy, that the general Treaty between the Emperor and the most Christian King is drawn up, and that as soon as it is signed the same will be communicated to the Maritime Powers, in like Manner as the Preliminary Articles of Peace were imparted to them.

It is said the Charge his Imperial Majesty has already been at for the Army in Hungary, amounts to six Millions of Florins, which he expects the Grand Signior should reimburse him before he consents to any Negotiations for Peace, which alone must make the War unavoidable.

We learn by the last Letters from the Ukraine, that the Prahms and other flat-bottom'd Boats, which have been built during the Winter, in order to serve upon the Neiper, had all safely pass'd the Cataracts upon the River, except one which they had been oblig'd to convoy by Land.

It

It is added, that the Turks are in Motion on all Sides, to join their Army; and to advance towards the Ruſſians, ſo that the News of ſome important Action is daily expected from thoſe Parts.

They write from Genoa, that the Senate and City were under an inexpreſſible Surprize upon hearing that Baron Newhoff had been at Amſterdam ever ſince the 24th of February. An extraordinary Council was immediately call'd, and ſome vigorous Reſolutions taken, the Reſult of which was, to diſpatch away certain Gallies directly to Corſica, to hinder any Succours from being landed in that Iſland. On the other hand the Corſicans continue faithful to their new King, and determined to ſacrifice their Lives to the laſt Man, rather than ſubmit to the Republick.

Several Proſecutions have been commenced, by way of Information, on the Statute of Henry VIII. againſt the Clergymen for being abſent for more than a Month from their reſpective Cures, and not being Chaplains to Noblemen, or otherwiſe legally exempted.

Our Accouts from moſt Parts of England, are full of Complaints for want of Rain, ſcarce any having fallen ſince the Barley has been in the Ground; ſo that 'tis probable it will bear a very good Price.

On Wedneſday laſt, a Servant of Mr. Thompſon's one of the Keepers of Epping Foreſt, (who lives at Fair-Maid Bottom) ſaw the famous Turpin on the Foreſt, and ſuſpecting he was going to ſteal ſome particular Horſe in that Neighbourhood, went to a Houſe near King's Oak and borrow'd a Gun, and charg'd it, and ſaid he would go and take Turpin, who was not far off, and accordingly went with the Gun after him; but approaching him with his Gnn too near, (apprehending, its ſuppoſed, he hadonly Piſtols) Turpin ſaw him and immediately diſcharg'd a Carbine at him loaded with Slugs, and ſhot him into the Belly dead on the Spot, and he now lies at the Oak: Turpin rode away and quitted his Horſe, which was laſt night in the Pound at Waltham-Abby. Yeſterday all that part of the Country was up in Arms in purſuit of him, but its ſuppoſed he is gone Northwards.----If the Laws were more ſevere on the Harbourers of known Highwaymen, this deſperate Fellow could not have eſcaped ſo long.

Within theſe few Days a great Quantity of Rice has been imported, which will probably reduce the Price of that Commodity, which has riſen conſiderably of late.

On Tueſday Night late, Information was given, that Turpin would lie that Night at a Houſe near Well-cloſe-ſquare, and Yeſterday Morning three Men beſet the Houſe very early; but being diſcover'd by a Woman, ſhe call'd out to Turpin who was in Bed, and gave him Warning of his Danger, by which he found Means to eſcape over the Houſes; Matthew King his Companion, whom Turpin ſhot by Accident in the Street in Goodman's Fields on Tueſday Morning when purſued, is in New Priſon; the Ball lodg'd in his Shoulder, but being attended by two Surgeons, 'tis believed will recover.

Yeſterday the Lord Auguſtus Fitzroy ſet out for Portſmouth to go on board his Majeſty's Ship the Eltham, of which his Lordſhip is Commander, in order to proceed with his ſaid Ship to the Weſt-Indies, where he was ſtationed.

A Petition was preſented to the Juſtices by the Apprentice of an Engraver in St. Martins, Weſtminſter, for his Maſter's not finding him Work enough; It appear'd that the Maſter would not let his Man ſee him work, fearing he might make too great a Proficiency in his Buſineſs; the Bench diſcharg'd him from his Maſter's Service.

His Majeſty attended by his Grace the Duke of Richmond, and the Duke of Manchester, went to the Houſe of Peers, and gave the Royal Aſſent to the following Bills: 1 For granting an Aid to his Majeſty by a Land Tax. To make perpetual the Act 6 George II. to prevent the infamous Practice of Stockjobbing. 3 For the better repairing and paving the Highways, Streets and Water Courſes, and for enlightening the Streets, Lanes and Paſſages, and better regulating the Nightly Watch within the City of Salisbury. 4 For enlarging the Term for repairing ſeveral Roads leading to the City of Worceſter, and for reducing the Toll on Sheep and Lambs by the ſaid Act. 5 For making more effectual two Acts for repairing the Highways from Old Stratford in Northamptonſhire to Dun-Church, Warwickſhire. 6 To raiſe Money to diſcharge the Debts incurred on account of building a Goal and Court Rooms for the Uſe of the County of Bucks. 7 For continuing a Duty of Two-Pennies Scots on every Pint of Ale ſold within the Town of Dunfreis, for building a Church and making a Harbour there; and for laying a Duty on the Tonnage of Shipping, &c. for the better repairing of the ſaid Harbour. 8. For making navigable Worſley-Brook, from Worſley-Mill in Lancaſhire, to the River Irwell in the ſaid County. And 10 Private Bills:

Extract of a Letter from Vienna, April 20.

We have here Copies of a Third Letter from the Graud Vizir to the Count de Konigſegg, Preſident of the Council of War, in Anſwer to that which his Excellency wrote to him on the 22d of March laſt. "The Vizier having therein highly extoll'd the Pacifick Sentiments which the Count de Konigſegg manifeſts in his Letter, as well on the Part of the Emperor as the Czarina, proteſts that the Sublime Porte is equally as deſirous as either of them, to ſee the Peace reſtor'd with Ruſſia, and continu'd with the Roman Empire; and that therefore it conſents to the ſending of its Plenipotentiaries, forthwith, for promoting the effectual Succeſs of this great and wholeſome Work, in Conjunction with the Plenipotentaries of the other Powers that are concern'd. That the Sublime Porte conſents, that it be eſtabliſh'd as a Preliminary Propoſition and Foundation of the Negotiation, That nothing ſhall be done contrary to the Glory and Honour of the Ottoman Empire, as the Count Konigſegg expreſſes himſelf on this Head in his Letter to the Grand Vizier: That conſequently the Plenipotentaries of the Porte had Orders to ſet out, together with Dahlman, the Imperial Ambaſſador, after the Feſtival of the Little Bairam in the Beginning of April, and that he hop'd they would be at the Place of Congreſs by the middle of that Month."

As there is no mention in the ſaid Letter, of the Reſignation of Aſoph, we muſt ſtay for another Anſwer from the Grand Vizier, to the Letter which the Count de Konigſegg wrote to him about the End of laſt March, before we can be certain whether or no there will be a War. Mean time all the Emperor's Generals were to be at their Poſts before the 9th Inſt. O. S. And the Troops which are aſſembled in Hungary, have Orders to divide themſelves into five Bodies, who are to open the Campaign in five ſeveral Places at once. According to a Liſt given of all the Imperial Forces that are to ſerve in that Country, they will amount to 216 Spuadrons, 75 Battalions, and 52 Companies of Grenadiers. 'Tis ſaid, the Expences already incurr'd by the Emperor for his Army amounts to about 6 Millions of Florins: And as 'tis a Queſtion with ſome, whether the Emperor will concern himſelf in the Negociation for a Peace between Ruſſia and the Porte, unleſs the Grand Signior will engage to indemnify the Charges he has been at for opening the Campaign; and as 'tis no leſs probable that the Turks will ſcruple to comply with the Demand, 'tis not difficult to foreſee that a War will be unavoidable.

London, May 10. They write from Hamburgh, that the Magiſtrates of that City have publiſhed a Placaert for ſurpreſſing their Bank, which is of about eleven Years ſtanding.

The War with the Turks, is become inevitable by the Inſolence of the Grand Signior; as appears by his Anſwer which he returned to Sir Edward Faulkner, the Britiſh Ambaſſador at Conſtantinople, when he was taking his Leave of him before his ſetting out for the Turkiſh Camp at Babadagh: The Ambaſſador told his Highneſs, That his Britannick Majeſty employed his Mediation with ſo much the greater Willingneſs, becauſe he judged Peace to be neceſſary to the Ottomans in the preſent Situation of Affairs. But the Haughty Turk reply'd, That if he vouchſafed to accept the Mediation of the Maritime Powers, 'twas more out of Friendſhip than Neceſſity, ſince he thought himſelf capable to ſtand it out againſt all his Enemies. 'Tis poſſible this ſeeming Loftineſs may proceed from the Violence of the Populace, who have diſperſed ſeveral Bills about the Streets of Conſtantinople, threating to depoſe the Grand Signior, and put his Miniſters to Death, in Caſe the Demolition or Surrender of Aſoph ſhould be agreed to.

From Gibraltar, that Muley Abdallah's re-aſcending the Throne of Barbary is confirm'd; that Muley Ariba is retired from Mequinez; and that the Blacks Army is divided into two Bodies.

Letters are lately arrived in Town from ſeveral of the Perſons taken by Angria the Pirate, which give an Account that there are many of them chain'd together, and employ'd in in carrying of Stones, with an Allowance of a Pint of Rice each Man per Day; and that they are very ill uſed by the Blacks; but in daily Expectation of being redeemed from their Slavery.

Paris, May 15. The Phyſicians here have made the moſt favourable Report of M. Charbonnier's Specifick Remedy for the Venereal Diſtemper, to the great Mortification of the Surgeons; but for fear of being too haſty in purchaſing the Secret, it is reſolved to commit twelve of the Pocky Women, and the like Number of Men, to this Virtuoſo, and keep them in the Hoſpital 'till November next, to try whether the Cure is radical or permanent.

BOSTON, July 25.

'Tis reported here, that the Governor of Coracoa, hath given Commiſſions to four Sloops, in order to make Repriſals upon the Spaniards, for the Depredations they have made upon the Dutch, which have from time to time taken ſeveral Veſſels without the leaſt Colour of Reaſon for it; and lately took a Veſſel coming from Holland, which had on board the Governor of Statia and the Governor of St. Martins, which they carried to St Domingo. Theſe four Sloops as they were bound upon the Expedition to the Coaſt of New Spain, met with a Dutch Trader coming back from thence, which informed them, that there was at ſuch a Place, four Guarde le Coſtes which had taken ſeveral Veſſels, and that he had narrowly eſcaped: Upon which the chief Commander call'd a Council, and it was agreed upon, that they ſhould take out of two of the Sloops all the Men, Guns, Ammunition, and Proviſion, and double arm the two other Sloops, which was accordingly done, leaving only a ſmall Number of Men on board each Sloop, to convoy them to the Port from whence they came; the Captain in Chief writing to the Governor the Reaſon of their Proceedings; After they had diſmiſſed the two Sloops and put themſelves in order, they proceeded to the Place where they had Information the Guarde le Coſtas were, but it ſeems they happen'd not to be all together; nevertheleſs they found one, which they deſtroy'd; afterwards they had Information where to find the reſt, and ſo proceeding like Men of Courage, they deſtroy'd two more; the fourth had the good Luck to eſcape them.
